

Florida Citrus Bowl
211 South Tampa Avenue
Orlando, FL 32805

January 21, 2015

To whom it may concern:

Tharp Plumbing was awarded the contract for the plumbing installation at the Citrus Bowl Project in Orlando Florida. Their scope of work consisted, but not limited to all engineering and installation of all domestic water, sanitary and storm system piping. Roughing, fixtures and trim for all gang toilet rooms, hook up of all kitchen equipment in the commissary kitchen and other cooking concessions along with the non-cooking concessions.

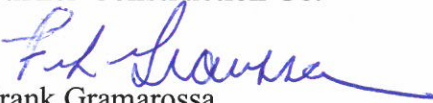

The project was very demanding. The schedule required all construction be complete within 10 months, starting on January 29, 2014. Turner and the subcontractors successfully completed the project on time and the owner was very satisfied and pleased that the Florida Classic was played on November 22, 2014.

Tharp Plumbing played a significant role with the successful completion of this project. They managed their work in a very productive and efficient manner. Their field forces were professional and cooperative and a pleasure to work with. They treated Turner like the customer and installed their work as areas came available and did not delay and cause any negative issues for the project.

I would use Tharp Plumbing again on our next project. This would give me "piece of mind" that the plumbing installation would be done right with little effort and oversight by the General Contractor.

Sincerely,

Turner Construction Co.
